

Image Credit: http://www.msperu.org/grafic/graficoslit/cuaresma_pascua/05_cua_b.htm

“The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.”

 Read the Gospel and Color

Image Credit: LPI used with permission

“The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.”

Today we celebrate the Fifth Sunday of Lent. In our Gospel reading from John 12:20-33, Jesus spoke with his disciples about the suffering that he would have to experience in the hours ahead.

Jesus used the example of a grain of wheat – we know that for a seed to grow, it must be buried, and that it will then transform into something wonderful: wheat! Jesus' death held the promise of new life. He wants to draw us to himself if we are willing to follow him.

This week, focus on your own “transformation” – if we allow ourselves to be transformed—changed by our love for God—and if we use that transformation to help, to love, and to serve others, we shine the light of Christ for all to see.

For More Fun:

- ✓ This week, plant a small seed of any kind in a cup near a window in your kitchen. During the weeks leading up to Easter, watch this seed grow and pray about how your Lenten sacrifices can help you become more Christ-like.
- ✓ This week, we celebrate the Annunciation of the Lord (3/25). Learn more about the lives of the saints at www.Saints.SQPN.com.
- ✓ Support our ministry this week by purchasing Lisa Hendey's new book: The Grace of Yes at Amazon, Barnes & Noble or your local Catholic bookstore. Thank you for your support!
- ✓ We love to hear from you! Email me at lisa@catholicmom.com to let me know where you live and where you go to Church!

The activities we share are offered free of charge and used around the world.

“Create a clean heart
in me, O God.”