Today, we celebrate the 25th Sunday in Ordinary Time. We read from Luke 16:1-13.

In Luke's gospel reading for today, Jesus told his disciples a parable about a dishonest steward. The steward's master had decided to fire him because he had not taken good care of the master's property. The steward tried to protect himself, so that when his employment ended he would have people who would help him. Jesus taught his disciples, "No servant can serve two masters. He will either hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and mammon."

We have to decide who we want to serve in this life – God, or the world around us. Choosing to serve God means that we will face challenges, choices, and sacrifices. But God's love for us and the promises God gives us will sustain us always!

FOR MORE FUN

- ★ We show someone we love them by talking to them or spending time with them. This week, find some time to sit quietly and be with God! He will help you to make the right choices in your life!
- ★ Jesus says in this Gospel:
"The person who is trustworthy in very small matters is also trustworthy in great ones."

What do you think he means by this? Can you think of an example in your life?
